BEDWETTING IN CHILDREN:

WHEN SHOULD YOU SEEK HELP?

Bedwetting is common in children and is often a normal part of development. However, persistent bedwetting may need medical evaluation.

You're NOT alone.
We're Here to Help!

CONSULT A SPECIALIST IF:

Bedwetting continues beyond
5-6 years of age

It starts suddenly after being dry for months

It is associated with pain,
frequent urination, or infections

Early diagnosis can help identify underlying causes and provide effective treatment.
